Motion to approve: Sadaf Fakhra

Second: Dax Spencer

Approved: 1.9.18

4. Organization Proposal:

Richard Kim, Andrew Woods, Grant Allbritten, Philip Stephens: New Club Request: Ultrasound Interest Group [See Attached]

Proposal:

They would like to start an ultrasound interest group to the DCOM campus. They believe that this will be a club that students of all specialty interests could participate in and find the skills learned in this club useful for future practice. They would like to even partner with specialty clubs. Through polling the students who participated in anatomy boot camp, there is a large amount of people who are interested in this group. A lot of medical schools have clubs for ultrasound and throw events, workshops, and competitions between other schools. They would like to be able to form a team to participate in these activities.

They would like their meetings to be more of a skills club rather than a speaker based club. They have ultrasound machines and faculty who are capable of using the machine. They would want to have their meetings structured like a conference with a didactic portion in the morning then a lunch break followed by skills workshops. This would occur on a Saturday. They have spoken with the anatomy department and they are willing to provide donors for Ultrasound guided injections skills workshops. Dr. Dudzik and Dr. Gassler have agreed to be the faculty advisors.

They feel that this club should be its own club rather than being apart of the radiology club because they have a parent organization through the American Institute of Ultrasound Medicine (AIUM) and the people who are interested in this club are not necessarily interested in perusing radiology any further than ultrasound. They are putting more emphasis on the skills rather than reading the ultrasounds. This will be discussed but it is not the main emphasis.

USIG is a program designed to build leadership in the use and understanding of ultrasound (US) technology. Through education, the main goal will be to teach and encourage proper use of this tool in the clinical setting. The USIG is a mentorship program open to all students at LMU- DeBusk College of Osteopathic Medicine.

The USIG encourages leadership and development of skills on how to best utilize ultrasound in medicine through structured mentorship and example. Ultrasound education is passed on from year to year, student to student.

Austin Richardson suggested that they could provide classes for 3rd and 4th years to do an ultrasound boot camp.

[Name]: Approval of Ultrasound Interest Group as a new club at LMU-DCOM

[Motion]: Dax Spencer motions to accept the ultrasound interest group at LMU-DCOM

[Second]: Sadaf Fakhra

James Luong: American Academy of Forensic Sciences 2018 Conference, Seattle, WA 2/20/18 to 2/22/18 [Pages 3 - 6]

[Proposal]: James would like to attend the 80th American Academy of Forensic Sciences to present novel research. During his master's program, he started to figure out if a fracture is induced in a bone after being in the ground. It was supposed to see if the fractures were made post mortem due to the trauma of unearthing vs fractures related to cause of death. He is doing the presenting at the conference and he will not be getting funding from any other entity. Any extra funds from the grant that he had is being used to pay a professor in St. Luis for her contribution on the project.

[Motion]: Sarah will reach out to Dr. Leo about approaching the research department for funds, but Sadaf Fakhra motions to approve him for

$1,505.00 in the case that the research faculty does not provide any funds.

Second: Austin Zearly

AAFS 2018 Annual Scientific Meeting - Oral/Poster Presentation Final Notification of Acceptance

AAFS Abstracts <abstracts@aafs.org>

Fri 1/5/2018 4:00 PM

To: Luong, James <james.luong@lmunet.edu>;

AMERICAN ACADEMY OF FORENSIC SCIENCES

January 5, 2018

James Luong, MSc
800 N 25th Street
Middlesboro, KY 40965

Dear Mr. Luong:

This letter represents the second notice that your paper, entitled Analysis of Osteon Pull-Out and Collagen Degradation to Establish Fracture Timing, has been accepted for presentation at the Academy's 70th Annual Scientific Meeting to be held February 19-24, 2018, in Seattle, WA, USA. Please note that the presentation type, time, or date may have changed from the original notice.* This information is current as of January 4, 2018. Details are as follows:

LOCATION:	Washington State Convention Center, Seattle, WA, USA
PROGRAM:	Anthropology Section
SESSION TITLE:	Poster Session
DATE/TIME*:	Wednesday, February 21, 2018 from 11:30 a.m. to 1:00 p.m.
PRESENTATION TYPE (Oral/Poster):	Poster
PRESENTATION #:	A9

The primary purpose of this second notification is to emphasize the importance of the AAFS Financial Disclosure Policy regarding presentations at the Annual Scientific Meeting.

Presentations at the AAFS Annual Scientific Meetings and corresponding abstracts must be formulated to promote education and to elevate accuracy, precision, and specificity in the forensic sciences. Presentations or abstracts which promote a commercial product, company, entity, or service will not be allowed at the AAFS Annual Scientific Meetings. Presentations by commercial entities shall be limited to the science and not to an advertisement or promotion of their product over that of a competitor. Any abstract or presentation that is perceived by a section program chair or the Academy Meeting Program Chair as a product endorsement will not be approved for presentation at the Meeting. A presentation given at a Meeting that in the opinion of the section program chair or the Academy Meeting Program Chair is a product endorsement may result in the presenter and corresponding company being barred from making presentations at future AAFS meetings.

Authors may submit and make presentations with specific references to non-health care-related products and services without disclosure of each product name; however, only in the context of describing a scientific methodology, case-related information, or the source of a sample (e.g., Dacron® fibers, Glock® rifling, 3M® tapes, Ford® Explorer®, explosive formulations, coating materials, etc.). It is appropriate for those products to be specifically identified since they are relevant to the scientific results or cases and these references are exempted from the disclosure requirement.

Exceptions to the "requirement to disclose" pertain to the discussion of health care-related products and services by speakers employed by the same entity as well as the discussion of all pharmaceutical products. Trade and commercial names of pharmaceuticals are prohibited in both abstracts and presentations, and only the generic product name can be used. As an example, pharmaceuticals such as Ambien® must be changed to its generic designation of zolpidem in all references.

In addition, it is the policy of the AAFS to ensure balance, independence, objectivity, and scientific rigor in all its individually sponsored or jointly sponsored educational programs. All faculty (speakers) participating in any programs are expected to disclose to the program audience any real or apparent conflict(s) of interest that may have a direct bearing on the subject matter of the continuing education program. This pertains to relationships with pharmaceutical companies, biomedical device manufacturers, or other corporations or businesses whose products or services are related to the subject matter of the presentation topic. The intent of this policy is not to prevent a speaker with a potential conflict of interest from making a presentation. It is merely intended that any potential conflict should be identified openly so that the listeners may form their own judgments about the presentation with the full disclosure of the facts. It remains for the audience to determine whether the speaker's outside interest may reflect a possible bias in either the exposition or the conclusions presented.

It is the primary goal of AAFS to promote education and to elevate professionalism in the field of forensic sciences. Only a portion of the total papers submitted are accepted for presentation; therefore, we would like to congratulate you on the acceptance of your presentation.

Finally, as a courtesy to others, meeting attendees are asked to have their cell phones and pagers turned off when attending sessions. If a phone conversation must be held, please step outside of the meeting room.

The presentation guidelines provided in your original notification letter can be found on the AAFS website at <https://www.aafs.org/meetings/instructions-for-presenters/>. Once again, we would like to congratulate you on the acceptance of your presentation.

Sincerely,

Christine Funk, JD
